"Their "big trip," as Messrs. Kolb call it, [was] a duplication of Major Powell's famous journey down the Green and Colorado rivers. To accomplish this feat they passed through seventeen canyons, with a total descent on the river of 6,000 feet." The National Geographic Magazine, Vol. XXVI, No. 2, August, 1914.

Ellsworth completed the journey from Needles to the Gulf of California in 1913. NAU.PH.568.3601 and NAU.PH.568.3750
